LOUISIANA TECHNOLOGY PARK OFFERS AID TO EVACUATING TECHNOLOGY COMPANIES

Services supplied throughout hurricane season

BATON ROUGE, La—Louisiana Technology Park announced today it will equip small technology companies evacuating from Hurricane Gustav and subsequent storms with workstations in order to provide key personnel temporary space for continued operations. This service will be available throughout the hurricane season at no cost to the companies.

Located at Louisiana Technology Park, (7117 Florida Blvd, Baton Rouge, La.) the workstations will include 24-hour access to desk space, wireless connectivity and local telephone service. Should companies be temporarily displaced following the storm, they can utilize the facility and services free for another three months.

“We remember how difficult it was for displaced companies after Hurricanes Katrina and Rita and want to ensure businesses can remain operational during complicated, often overwhelming, circumstances,” says acting LTP President Stephen Loy.

Two workstations will be available for companies with 25 employees or less on a first-come, first-served basis. Companies interested in applying for space or other Baton Rouge companies interested in donating additional workspace, computers, printers, office supplies or copiers should visit www.latechpark.com or call 225.218-1100.

The Louisiana Technology Park (LTP) is an incubator for technology-oriented companies and is located in the Bon Carré Business Center on Florida Boulevard in Baton Rouge. The business incubator was created in 2001 to bring promising, emerging technology companies and their products and services to market faster and more effectively. Companies chosen for the program have access to cutting-edge software and hardware, high-speed Internet access, commercial data center usage and first-class business advice. LTP is a wholly owned subsidiary of Research Park Corporation. For more information, please visit www.latechpark.com.
